MFPA FORMATION AND OBJECTIVES

The Malaysian Fire Protection Association (MFPA) was first mooted in 1976 by a group of Malaysian pioneers and expatriates in the fire industry. The Association was formally registered as a society on 26th July 1977. Since then, MFPA has grown into an organized and cohesive organization, representing the manufacturers, contractors and professionals in the fire trades.

The Organization is dedicated in promoting and developing the fire industry. Throughout the years, it has organized various courses for the betterment of our members. MFPA collaborates with the various professional bodies in conducting seminars on fire safety and is also responsible in disseminating latest developments in the fire industries globally through its international networks.

The Organization is actively involved in upgrading standards through its participation with SIRIM in various working groups on Standard Writing Technical committees on both active and passive fire system.

The main objectives of the Association are:

- To promote and coordinate the interest of fire protection industry and to protect the legitimate interest of members.
- To encourage any technical or other forms of education for the training and development of efficient personnel.
- To seek representation in matters of legislation and regulation set up by Government or non-government organization.
- To promote and encourage the acceptance of the Association with relevant Government and non-government bodies.
- To encourage and promote the practice of professionalism and harmonious working relationship.
- To discuss and disseminate matters affecting fire protection industry for the members through in house publication.
